Why They Love Phreesia: Point-of-care eligibility & benefits verification

Caryn, the practice manager at Dr. Balot's office, used to have a lot of trouble collecting updated insurance information and accurate copay amounts from patients. Now that Dr. Balot has Phreesia, she wastes less time on the phone with payers, and can allocate more time for patient care.

- * Reduces staff workload: Automated eligibility and benefits verification has freed up more time for the front desk staff to focus on patient care.
- * Increases their revenue: Phreesia provides the correct copay amount immediately after the patient checks-in, so Caryn knows her practice isn't losing money.
- * Improves office workflow: Caryn doesn't have to spend time speaking to a billing manager on the phone about whether patients are ineligible for insurance, because she already knows their eligibility status as soon as they check-in.

We think that Phreesia could provide your practice with these same benefits. Please contact your Phreesia representative for more information.

Sincerely,
